A Counterfeiter Out- fit Captured.

A FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

A Healthy Advance in Wall Street Stocks.

The Hostile Indians Seem Dis- posed to Quit.

Latest from the Hostiles.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Colonel Corbin of the army headquarters here, this morning received a telegram from General Miles at Rapid City, S. D., confirming the Associated Press dispatches of last night about the capture of Big Foot and his band. Colonel Corbin thinks this virtually means the ending of all the trouble and that General Miles will be able to start for home in a few days. The General left Rapid City yesterday on horseback for Pine Ridge Agency, a journey of 70 miles.

OMAHA, Dec. 29.—A special to the Bee from Pine Ridge says that Big Foot's band was discovered shortly before noon yesterday by Little Bat, one of the Indian scouts. The hostile camp is eight miles northwest of Major White's camp and one mile from Wounded Knee. When this was reported to Major White he ordered four troops of the seventh cavalry into the saddle and marched to the point indicated by the scout. As the military approached, the hostiles formed in a long line of battle. Major White led his men up into line, and when they came within rifle shot, Big Foot came forward on foot and unarmed and signalled that he wanted to speak with the Major. Dismounting, the latter walked out and met the chief. As they came forward Big Foot extended his hand in token of peace, and said:

"I am sick. My people here want peace."

Major White cut him short with: "I won't talk; nor will I have any parleying at all. It is either an unconditional surrender or a fight, that is your answer."

"We surrender," said the chief. "We would have done so before, but we couldn't find you and couldn't find any soldiers to surrender to."

Then, at a signal, his warriors raised a white flag, and in less time than it takes to write it, the military had their prisoners surrounded, and scouts were hastened into Pine Ridge Agency for the other four troops of the fourth cavalry and Lieutenant Taylor's scouts to help guard and disarm the party. There are 150 warriors, all perfectly armed, and 250 squaws, together with many children. They seem to be all well fixed for war, except that some of them are without ponies. Major White has 2,500 soldiers. The general opinion is the surrender of Big Foot is not in good faith. The Indians still retain their arms. The party, however, is being watched, and the first false move will precipitate a fight.

Another special from Pine Ridge says a battle was fought last night between the hostiles and troops on Porcupine Creek. A number were killed on both sides. Captain Wallace and other officers of lower rank of the seventh cavalry are among the killed. No more particulars are obtainable.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The War Department has received no report of a fight between the seventh cavalry and the Indians.

A Canadian Complaint.

OTTAWA (Ont.), Dec. 29.—Acting Secretary Rankin, of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, in closing certain Vermont ports of entry against Canadian cattle into the United States, owing to the alleged existence of pleuro pneumonia in the Dominion, is much criticised here. Government officials assert that not a single case of the disease is in existence in the Dominion.

Three Men Killed.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 29.—The main boiler in Irvin's large factory in this city exploded to-day, causing the death of three workmen. Inattention on the part of the engineer is supposed to have been the cause of the disaster.

A Suspension.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29.—Gerlach & Harjes, bankers and brokers, announced their suspension on the Stock Exchange at noon to-day. The failure is not a heavy one.

A Slight Advance.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The stock market opened this morning with considerable more animation than has been displayed for the past few days, and from a firm to a strong tone marked the dealings. The opening figures were generally fractionally higher than at Saturday's closing.

Lackawanna took the lead in the advance which followed the opening, rising 1 1/4. Rock Island followed with 1 per cent; Northern Pacific preferred, Reading and sugar, three-fourths each; Atchison with five-eighths and others with smaller amounts. The upward movement continued throughout the hour, and at 11 o'clock, the market, while dull, was firm at about the best prices.

The stock market after 11 was less active, but continued firm and strong, Lackawanna still leading. Almost everything on the list reached still higher prices than during the first hour, and while there was a little special feature displayed, the market at noon was quiet to dull and firm at or near the highest prices of the morning.

The Post says: The advance was mainly due to the covering of shorts, and this was started by some moderate buying for London account. Notwithstanding the expectation that more gold will be drawn from the Bank of England for Germany before the end of the year, it is not regarded as the occasion for uneasiness in London, and money there was easier this morning at 3 1/4 for bankers' balances. The favorable bank statement here on Saturday also had an effect to induce traders to cover their shorts so freely put out in grange stocks last Friday and on the first half of the past week.

The stock market closed at the highest figures of the day.

A Jail Delivery.

TUCSON, Dec. 29.—This morning Adolph Verdujo, under sentence of death, struck Jailer Patton three times on the neck, through a grating, with a dirk, and then forced the door open, beat the jailer, took his keys and escaped. Antonio Yepps Sanchez, awaiting trial for murdering a Mexican at a rodeo four years ago, and Juan Castillo, committed for grand larceny, also escaped. It is thought the refugees are making toward the border line. A Sheriff's posse are in pursuit. Verdujo killed a man in Nogales with a coupling-pin, and was extradited and sentenced to death, but was awaiting the result of an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Barn Burned.

CAYUCOS (Cal.), Dec. 29.—The barn of Asa Wallace was burned this morning, together with five horses and a large quantity of hay, harness and other property. Loss, over $2,000; uninsured. The fire was caused by upsetting a lighted lantern.

SPANISHTOWN (Cal.), Dec. 29.—A large frame barn and two sheds belonging to C. C. Walker were burned this morning, together with thirty tons of hay, one buggy and a set of harness, a plow and a road-scraper. The barn was insured for $600, and is supposed to have been fired by tramps.

Lively Shooting Affray.

WILKESBARR (Pa.), Dec. 29.—This morning a shooting affair occurred at Groedick, five miles from here. Michael Curley, a saloon-keeper, shot and killed his wife and a Hungarian named Anton Stanovitch, and fatally wounded himself. Another Hungarian who was in the saloon at the time was shot through the hand, but escaped. Stories abound tell of an intimacy between the Hungarian and Curley's wife.

Corbett and Jackson May Meet.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—The California Athletic Club Directors will hold a meeting to-night, and it is understood that, as Slavin is apparently out of the question, the matching of Corbett and Jackson will be a part of the business transacted. It is stated that the total value of the trophy to be contested for will be $10,000, $8,500 going to the winner. Both men express themselves as pleased at the prospect.

Counterfeiter's Outfit Found.

LEXINGTON (Mon.), Dec. 29.—United States Marshal Devoe has found a deserted cabin near Gray Cliff, on the Crow Reservation, in which were all the apparatus for manufacturing spurious coins. A man named Frank Ellis was found in the vicinity and was arrested, but he refused to say anything.

Good Crops Expected.

MARYSVILLE (Cal.), Dec. 29.—There was a rainfall this morning of .08 of an inch, making 3.51 for the season. The fruit and grain lands are in the best condition, and the indications for crops are very good.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

Discussion On Idaho's Three Senators.

W. E. GLADSTONE'S BIRTHDAY

He Reaches His Eighty-First Mile Stone.

O'Brien Vigorously Assails the "Times."

A Big Jewelry Swindle.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—A morning paper says one of the most deliberate and prearranged plans for plundering the wholesale diamond merchants on Maiden Lane was unearthed late Saturday night, when several Deputy Sheriffs made a descent on a jewelry store at 369 Eighth avenue and seized everything of value in the place. The store was owned by Albert Jahn, who has disappeared with the entire stock of the establishment, valued at about $50,000. The scheme was so successful that at least a dozen downtown diamond brokers and jewelers were victimized, and the ringleader in the plot made good his escape. The defaulting tradesman left his wife penniless. Before leaving for parts unknown he persuaded her to give him the few hundred dollars she had saved up.

In spite of the fact of the man's previous unsavory reputation, he managed to work so upon the credulity of the downtown jewelers, and made such pretensions as to his big bank account and remunerative trade that he had comparatively no difficulty after he had once made a favorable impression in getting all the jewelry and diamonds he wanted on credit. One of the victims who let Jahn have jewelry on credit said he did not think more than $500 could be realized on the fixtures, and unless the police recover the stolen stock the creditors will sustain a total loss.

Bold Bank Robbery.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—A telephone message from South Chicago says that three men entered a bank there to-day, covered the cashier with a revolver and robbed the bank of all the money it contained. They then jumped into a buggy and drove rapidly towards this city. An alarm was at once given, and the officers started in pursuit, but the robbers were out of sight. The police in this city were notified at once, and officers were sent to intercept the fleeing robbers. The amount of money secured has not yet been learned.

After a chase of seven miles the policemen captured two of the robbers. Several shots were exchanged between the police and the fleeing robbers, and one of the latter was seriously wounded in the thigh. The third robber is still at large.

The men entered the Merchants' Exchange Bank about 1 o'clock this afternoon. Two of them engaged the cashier's attention, while the third slipped through the door and, coming up behind that official, dealt him a blow which knocked him senseless. Then the three quickly rifled the bank, securing $2,800, and dashed away in a buggy. Only $100 was found on the men.

Wladstone's Eighty-First Birthday.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—At Howarden Castle to-day, the eighty-first birthday of William E. Gladstone was celebrated with great rejoicing, telegrams of congratulations and numerous presents arriving from all parts of Great Britain, and there were also received several congratulations by cable from the United States. Nearly the whole of Gladstone's family were present at the castle, and the village was crowded with visitors. A memorial fountain erected by residents of Howarden, in order to commemorate the Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone, was unveiled. Gladstone's health is excellent.

A Hard Matter.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—O'Brien, in denying in his dispatch from Paris that he ever wrote a line for the Irish World, as stated by the London Times, added that he had caught the London Times at its old Pigmy tricks, and that he would not allow that newspaper to sail away with its quibbling, dishonest reply pinned to a false malicious libel.

Death of an M. P.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—The death of Thomas Richardson, member of Parliament from Hartlepool, is announced. Richardson was a Liberal Unionist.

Constitutional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The Senate met at noon, and the Vice-President laid before that body a communication from the Governor of Idaho transmitting the credentials of the Senators-elect from that State—George L. Shoup and W. J. McConnell.

The credentials having been read, Hour asked that as Shoup was present the oath of office be administered to him.

Vance remarked that the new State of Idaho appeared to have elected more than its share of Senators, and he thought the credentials should be referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Hour's motion having been agreed to, that Senator escorted Shoup to the Clerk's desk, where he took the oath of office.

Harris subsequently inquired what had become of Vance's motion, and said that Shoup was simply sworn in on his prima facie case.

Vance remarked it was stated in the newspapers that three Senators were elected in Idaho, and that the Legislature had gone to the extent of assigning to each of them the term for which he should serve. That was contrary, he said, to a rule of the Senate and to a constitutional provision. He thought it proper, therefore, that the question be determined by the proper committee of the Senate.

Mitchell said he had reliable information that it was a false report, so far as the election of three Senators was concerned, and held that the proceedings had been regular and in order.

Hour argued that the question was a very simple one; that it was clear and unquestionable that one of the two Senators whose credentials had just been presented would go out on March 4, 1891, and the Legislature, being in session, had elected a Senator for the term which would then begin. Beyond all question there would be a vacancy at that time, because one of those two gentlemen would have to go out on March 4, 1891.

Carlisle argued that the Legislature of Idaho had no right to assume in advance of action by the Senate that there would be a vacancy in the Senate from that State on March 4, 1891, and that no election for a Senator to fill such vacancy could take place until it was legally known that a vacancy would occur; that after it is determined by the Senate in a constitutional way that there would be a vacancy after that time the next Legislature of Idaho, if in session, might proceed at once to choose a Senator, and if the Legislature were not in session the appointment of a Senator should be made by the Governor of the State. He imagined there had never been a case in the history of the country where a State Legislature had chosen three Senators at once.

Hawley—"Is it not imperative, under the Constitution, that there shall be a vacancy after the fourth of March next?"

Carlisle—"I think so."

Hawley—"Then how could the Legislature of Idaho be any more certain of that fact three months hence than it is to-day?"

Carlisle—"Each one of these gentlemen holds precisely the same form of credentials. Now, I want the Senator to state what the Senate would do in case all three of them presented their credentials at the same time. How would the Senate determine what two of them were legally arraigned and what one of them was not?"

The discussion was continued by Stewart, Sanders, Cockrell, Reagan and Mitchell. Spooner asked Reagan whether the State of Idaho was not entitled to two Senators.

Reagan—"Yes."

Spencer—"The Legislature of Idaho adopted a resolution to proceed to an election to fill two existing vacancies, and it elected Shoup and McConnell, without specifying the length of the term of either, leaving it to be determined by the Senate. How—does that fact affect the question of the Legislature having elected a third man whose term of office is to commence in the future?"

Vance's motion to refer the credentials of Shoup and McConnell to the Committee on Privileges and Elections was then agreed to.

Carlisle introduced a joint resolution for the appointment of commissioners to confer with the commissioners of the Dominion of Canada to consider the trade relations of the two countries, and it was referred to the select committee on our relations with Canada.

Faulkner offered a resolution calling on the Superintendent of Census for information as to the population of each county in the State of West Virginia.

Aldrich offered his resolution for the amendment of the rules, which he had heretofore given notice of, and asked that it be printed and laid over.

Stewart this afternoon gave notice that he would on to-morrow move to take up the financial bill.

Irish Affairs.

DUBLIN, Dec. 29.—Vincent Scully, recently defeated by Sir John Pope Hennessy in the contest for North Kilkenny's seat in Parliament, has written a letter to the Freeman's Journal, in which he says that the attitude of the Irish bishops before and during the election referred to only shows that Parnell "committed a private vice" and allowed judgment by default to be delivered against him, and therefore he has been pronounced as no longer eligible to the position of a public trust. Continuing Scully says: "The Irish struggle is essentially a political and not a moral one; a struggle for leave for the Irish people to manage Irish affairs after their own fashion. The struggle is one of pounds, shillings and pence, and not of morals."

Athlone, Roscommon and Westmeath are excited over a proclamation placed in all prominent places. It states that true Irishmen have resolved to support their independence; that the Kilkenny reverse trumpet calls for you to close your ranks and make a last supreme fight for the cause. It adds that the fatherland is threatened by a calamity surpassing a thousand coercion acts, and the lowering of the flag of independence on the vague promises of English statesmen; that Irish history teems with disasters resulting from a reliance placed upon English promises.

The proclamation continuing, asks the people to sustain their policy of an independent party in Parliament, adding "that with the people of Ireland and America united behind it, she should sustain the leader who made that policy and led you to victory until now. That the issue between the independent party was as to whether the people should choose their own leader and party, or as to whether they should become merely a part of the English Liberals, and accept a leader dictated by England and English leaders. That would not do for home rule. We want home rule—the home rule for which Emmett and other patriots gave their noble lives. We were advancing to victory under a good leader; support him in the grand cause for ever. 'God save Ireland.'"

A Suicide—Warm Bath.

NEVADA CITY (Cal.), Dec. 29.—John Daniels, aged 22 years, suicided this morning at his father's house by cutting his throat with a razor. While working in a mine in Washington township he was attacked by typhoid fever and came here last week for treatment. He has relatives at San Francisco and Virginia City. Three years ago an uncle of the young man killed himself here by the same means. A warm rain began here early this morning.

A Mild Winter.

REINARCK, N. D., Dec. 29.—Thus far this winter the mercury has not dropped to the zero mark. The farmers have been plowing all winter, and the oldest settlers fail to recall a similar instance in the history of the Missouri slope. This morning opened up as balmy as a June day. The men wear straw hats and linen coats without feeling uncomfortable, and ladies on the streets find use for their parasols.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

Frank C. Walker, a New York paper manufacturer made an assignment to-day.

Soil has been begun by the Government in San Francisco to compel the Southern Pacific, the Atlantic & Pacific and the Western Union Companies to operate their own lines of roads and telegraphs, and to disallow the leasing of any of them in violation of the terms agreed upon with the Government.

It is pretty generally conceded now that we will not have a Constitutional Convention. The Supreme Court has given it one black eye, and the Legislature will most likely dress the other in mourning and finish the knock-out. It is said, too, that the only law Nevada has in her statutes touching our moral status is to be repealed, to-wit: the 12 o'clock closing law. It cannot be possible that our representatives are lost to all sense of right and decency and will expunge from our statutes the 12 o'clock closing law. If forced to we can stand the knocking out of the new Constitution, if our representatives do their full duty as legislators and lop off the State expenses wherever it can be done. We fear, however, that the incoming members will not take hold of the question with that zeal and fidelity that should prompt men chosen to represent a commonwealth, but we will not attempt to criticize until they show their hands. Let us hope and pray for the best.

The Congress of the United States, says the Salt Lake Tribune, ought to pass a law which would read that "any ship or steamship bringing paupers to the United States should be confiscated for offering to land the same." If paupers we do not mean poor people who come with good characters and with good health and strength to this country to try and better their fortunes, but we mean such as were brought by the steamship Hindoostan into New York on Christmas Day—wretches whom the dispatch says were evidently the output of some poorhouse, the officials of which decided it would be much cheaper to pay their passage to the United States than to keep them for years. Europe has done that kind of work ever since our Government was founded. Nations have gone to war for a less offense than it is to try and unload a ship-load of creatures on a foreign shore.

THE RENO GAZETTE refers to that sagebrush city as the "Athens of Nevada." The GAZETTE is far too modest. Athens is merely the Reno of Greece.—(Sacramento Bee.) It is quite astounding to see how ignorant men can be of the country so near them as Reno is to Sacramento. The Bee refers to Reno as a "sagebrush city." If it would send a reporter here he would see one of the prettiest towns, with the surrounding country in keeping, that ever laid out of doors. Reno to Nevada is what Oakland and Berkeley are to California, and while we do not pretend to be much, we will resent an insult as quick as any people on the face of the earth. The time is coming when Nevada capital will be invested at home, and not go to beautify California; and when it does California and the Bee will miss the wealth Nevada has been pouring into their laps for thirty years.

"A Small Dealer and Workman," whose communication appears in another column, has evidently got the germ of an idea in his head, but fails to bring it out. We are glad to see the subject discussed, as it may lead to good results, for there is room for improvement. "A Small Dealer's" communication is given for what it is worth, but that it contains an idea there can be no doubt.

THE Elko Independent says: The Reno GAZETTE issued an eight-page illustrated Christmas number on the 24th instant, much of which is devoted to Reno and vicinity, including principal business enterprises and views of public buildings. It is a creditable showing for the enterprise of the paper and should be, and no doubt is, highly appreciated by the people of the Riverside town.

THE Sacramento Evening News has made its appearance at this office. It is a very newsy sheet, full of interesting telegrams from all parts of the world, and editorial and local matter fresh and able. The GAZETTE extends to Mr. Drury its congratulations, and hopes the News may live a useful life, for the field is there.

THE Elko Independent heads a news item "Pure Democracy," an article which has not been seen in the United States since the days of Jefferson.

A FELINE SNAKE-KILLER.

An Alabama Cat That Was Death to Rattlesnakes.

"Rattlesnakes may charm birds, rabbits and dogs, but they can't charm cats." The speaker was George Stearnes, a farmer from Walker County, who was telling snake stories while waiting for a train at the depot. To prove his assertions Stearnes related the following incident:

He owns a large black cat, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which kills every snake and lizard it can find. The other day he saw the cat creeping through the grass toward some kind of prey and watched it. A few feet away he discovered a large rattlesnake coiled ready to strike and its head-like eyes fixed on those of the cat. The head of the snake was making the peculiar swaying motion which is a part of the charm that brings birds and rabbits willing victims to the mouth of the hideous reptiles. Stearnes says he saw at a glance the snake was trying to charm the cat, and, as he was not much attached to the feline, he stood still to await results. With its body close to the ground, and its tail swaying back and forth, the cat continued to creep slowly forward. Its eyes were fixed on those of the snake, as though the two were testing their powers of mesmerism. Slowly and cautiously the cat crept closer and closer to the coiled reptile, and it really seemed for awhile that it had fallen a victim to the charming powers of the rattler. When within four feet of the snake it stopped, placed its feet in position for a spring, and remained motionless for an instant. The snake seemed surprised, and changed its position slightly. This was the opportunity the cat was waiting for. Quick as lightning the feline leaped and caught the snake by the neck with teeth and claws, and, after rolling over and over on the ground for two minutes, the snake was dead. The cat did not release its hold until long after the snake ceased to move, and then, as it walked away, would occasionally look back to see if there was any suspicious movement.

FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Part of a Redwood Giant from Tulare for Chicago.

The section of the big redwood tree for exhibition at the world's fair at Chicago is from the largest and most perfect "Big Tree" in California, cut for the purpose from the mammoth forest in Tulare County, Cal. It measures ninety-nine feet in circumference at the base. The height of this monster specimen was 313 feet, being 173 feet to the first limb, which limb measures three feet in diameter. The tree is supposed to be nearly 3,000 years old, taking each concentric ring to be of one year's growth. It is to be taken from an altitude of 6,325 feet above the sea level, and thirty-three miles from the nearest railroad.

Ten expert woodsmen, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat, have been cutting the tree since March 19. As this tree was taken from the midst of a dense forest, it was found necessary to build a road for four miles, as nothing but a trail existed, leading from the tree into the county road. In clearing a way nearly 400 ordinary-sized trees had to be cut down, huge rocks had to be blasted, a number of bridges built, and many other obstacles had to be overcome in order to land this giant of the forest at the nearest railroad point. Part of the tree has been cut out and placed on hinges, so as to swing open and shut like a door. The interior has been hollowed to accommodate visitors, of whom over 100 will be able to enter and remain inside of the tree trunk at the same time. This exhibit will have 350 incandescent electric lights.

THE NEW MONEY FAD.

Yet Another Queer Notion of Wealthy Women.

"Can you give me $300 in new money?" inquired a young man at the teller's window in one of the big banks down town a few days ago. "Mr. — wants it for his wife." "Certainly," replied the teller, recognizing in the applicant the confidential clerk of one of the bank's heaviest depositors. The money, says the New York Times, was handed out in clean, crisp tens and fives that had never been in circulation. After the young man had gone, the teller remarked to the writer: "That new money fad is on the increase. Just as soon as a man begins to feel a little tony he gets the notion that no member of his family ought to handle the soiled and crumpled currency in general circulation. When the madame goes shopping she must have her purse filled with brand new bills. Many persons explain their mania for new money on the theory that there is contagion in the much-handled bills. They seek to keep disease away from their family circle by excluding, to as full an extent as possible, all money that has been in circulation. They keep a supply of new bills of various denominations constantly on hand, and the ladies of the household feel that they are thus well protected against contagion."

Royal Widows in Europe. Almost every country in Europe possesses an illustrious widow, from Victoria in England to the young Duchess of Aosta, in Italy; Empress Frederick, in Germany; Christiana, Empress of Mexico, who is melancholy mad in the Chateau of Conchont; Princess Stephanie Archduchess of Austria, and Natalie, worse than widowed ex-Queen of Serbia, and the unhappy, heart-broken Eugenie, ex-Empress of the French.

Cells of the Brain. The most complex of all the animal tissues is the brain. The fibers of one single optic nerve have been counted under a microscope to the number of about three hundred thousand. The number in the brain must therefore be immense. So with regard to cells; they are countless. No method of science has been able to count the cells in a single square quarter of an inch of the brain covering of the brain.

Another Golden Opportunity.

Reno is the birth-place of one of the most successful and far-famed proprietary medicines that the world has ever known, which has not only made its promoters famous, but rich as well. Another remedy of equal or superior merit, and destined to attain proportionate success and fame, claims Reno for its home. To secure the speedy realization of this, the confidence and co-operation of our citizens is all that is needed. The stock-books of the California Cephaline Company are now open at Pinner's drug store and contain the names of some of Nevada's most influential citizens and business men. Parties wishing to subscribe for stock, should do so at once by applying to the Secretary, or to Rev. J. W. Pendleton, President.

This book contains 480

pages; is eight and one-half inches long, six inches wide and two inches thick. It is printed on extra heavy paper and is handsomely bound, with embossed cover and gold-leaf lettering.

It is different from all other works ever published.

First—It teaches those who have it how to tell what the matter is when a person gets sick.

All similar books tell what to do if you know what the disease is. This book tells

you HOW TO DETECT

THE DISEASE, and then

what to do for it.

No other Book Published deals this.

Second—When a person is really attacked by a dangerous disease, it enables you to know the fact, and in such cases its advice is:

"Send for a competent physician
